Related Articles & Research Studies

July 2014 to June 2015

Introduction: This bibliography was created to provide a summary of recent articles and research studies, from a variety of disciplines, relevant to professional practice in the field of elder abuse. Each entry in the bibliography includes a citation and link to gain access to the document. In some cases, due to copyright restrictions, you will not be able to access the entire article, but will be given information on how to purchase the entire article.

The bibliography is organized by topic. To navigate the document ctrl + click the desired location or page number in the table of contents. To search this document for a particular keyword or phrase, press Control + F and enter the word or phrase.

Articles Cited Were Published From: July 2014 to June 2015

Database Sources: Psychinfo, CINAHL and PubMed

Total Number of Articles: 114

This bibliography is not intended to be an exhaustive list of articles and studies on elder abuse and neglect over the specified time period. NCEA has attempted to identify the articles and studies most pertinent to professional practice in the United States, but inadvertent omissions are possible. This list includes peer reviewed and refereed journal articles along with other articles expected to be of interest. Articles from a variety of disciplines (e.g. medicine, law, social work, psychology, dentistry and nursing) and countries are included. Articles written in languages other than English are beyond the scope of this project and are not included. Citation styles will vary because they were pulled from different research databases. Articles that are found within more than one topic category are indicated with the word “OVERLAP.” This bibliography was compiled by NCEA student intern Ricky Esquivel with guidance from NCEA staff.
