Financial Exploitation

INTRODUCTION

This document supports the NCEA slide deck An Introduction to Elder Abuse for Professionals: Financial Exploitation. The slides and the guidelines for using them are at www.ncea.aoa.gov/Training/Curricula/index.aspx.

TEAM PRESENTING

When presenting on financial exploitation, consider working with trainers who have expertise in financial abuse [especially involving family members or caregivers]; scams targeting older adults and/or forensic accounting. Consider co-presenting with someone who works in a different field or discipline.

POSSIBLE VIDEO CLIPS

Video clips of older victims and survivors sharing their experiences can be a powerful way to engage the audience. If time permits, consider using a video clip in place of or in combination with the case examples at the beginning of the module. A description of the videos and ordering information can be found NCALL video list at <http://ncall.us/sites/ncall.us/files/resources/2013%20EA%20Video%20List.pdf>.

Possible videos examples of elder financial exploitation include:

- > A Mother Never Gives Up Hope: Older Mothers and Abusive Adult Son [Anne and Rita]
- > Broken Trust [Dot]
- > An Age for Justice
